ABOUT VERONIKA

Veronika is a Northern California native, having grown up in Woodland and completed her high school education in Roseville. She holds a degree in journalism from San Francisco State University and has resided in Sacramento since 2012. Veronika's professional journey began with covering news and special events for her college newspaper, followed by contributing to the media relations team of the Sacramento River Cats. She then managed a medical transportation office in the Bay Area before transitioning to a career in commercial insurance in 2013. With a focus on commercial lines account management, Veronika has gained extensive experience in various industries including contractors, home health care, hospitality, and non-profits.

Since Fall of 2020, Veronika has been a valued member of the Bender Insurance Solutions team. She takes pride in providing professional assistance to her clients and collaborating with local businesses to help them achieve their insurance objectives.

Outside of work, Veronika loves spending time with her two housecats and cheering for the San Francisco Giants.
